

National Seminar: India's Diplomacy at Seventy-five

Joint Collaboration between IIPA, Centre for International Relations (IIPA) and ICSSR

Days: 9th and 10th February, 2023

Venue: IIPA

Coordinator: Dr. Manan Dwivedi, Faculty, International Relations and International Organization, IIPA

Call for Papers

Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav is a novel and noble initiative set rolling by the New Delhi dispensation which aims to resurrect the myth and lore of the nation's Independence struggle. The manifested narrative is not about a rhetorical regeneration of the antiquity of the India's independence struggle but an avowed striving to make the nation and its hoi polloi aware about the pantheon of leaders such as the much known Mahatma and Pandit Nehru but also the lesser known and celebrated icons of the struggle against colonialism and Imperialism. The lesser acclaimed names of the order of Khudiram Bose, Bhagat Singh and the tribal leaders such as Tirot Singh, Birsa Munda and the likes of Alluri Seetha Raman Raju. It's an odyssey into the India's hallowed past and its quintessential freedom run.

The two day National seminar titled, "India's Diplomacy at 75," zeroes in upon the larger ambit of the Amrit Mahotsav and the idiom of the Amrit Kal as placed forth by the Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi. The seminar will delve inside and deliberate upon the context of India's Diplomacy including within its rubric, the introductory precepts of Old and New Diplomacy along with snippets out of the narrative of India's Foreign Policy. Indian Diplomacy has traversed a long, challenging and arduous journey where in the immediate neighbourhood wars have been fought for self defence. India has mended ties with United States while sustaining a BOP with an aggressive Kremlin along with augmenting its overreach across the confines of Europe, Africa, West Asia and Central Asia.

Date of submission of the Abstract: 30th December, 2022

Date of submission of full-fledged paper: 30th January, 2023

Framework and styling:

The research paper ought to be curated in the style of Times New Roman, 1.5 lines spacing with a well delineated Abstract and the segment of introduction. The paper ought to be footnoted and Referenced with the Chicago style of citation. In Texting is not permitted.

The Papers can be mailed at manannanny@gmail.com and pollaw@rediffmail.com

The accepted papers will be published as a two Volume Book by IIPA. The paper presenters and the speakers have to adhere to the following schemata of the two day national seminar.

Themes and Schedule:

1st Day:

Inaugural:

DG IIPA, Surendra Nath Tripathi, Retd. IAS, Dr. Manan Dwivedi, Faculty, IR and IO, IIPA 10.00 AM – 10.30 PM

1. Understanding Diplomatic Practice: Interaction one hour session by Prof. Ashwini Mahapatra, School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi
Time: 10.45 AM - 12.00 PM

2. Revisiting India's Neighbourhood, Dr. Abhishek Srivastava, Faculty, CIPOD, SIS, JNU and Paper Presenters
Time: 12.00 PM- 2.00 PM

Lunch: 2.00 A M- 3.00 PM

3. India's Diplomatic Practice in the Area of Emerging Security: Dr. Rajeev Nayan, Dr. Uttam Sinha and Paper Presenters
Time: 3.00 PM- 5.00 PM

II Day

4.) India and Major Powers: Prof. Chintamani Mahapatra and Paper Presenters
Time: 10. 00 .AM- 12.00 PM

5.) Tenets of Cultural Diplomacy: Speaker and Paper Presenters
Time: 1.00- PM – 2.00 PM

6.) India's Economic Diplomacy: Speaker and Paper Presenters
Time: 2.00 PM – 4.00PM

7.) Valedictory Session: DG IIPA, Sri Surendra Nath Tripathi, Faculty Coordinator: Dr. Manan Dwivedi, IR and IO Faculty, IIPA

Time: 4.00 PM- 4.30 PM